

Biography

litasa

LITERACY
ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH AFRICA

Dr Karen Roux

Karen is a researcher at the Centre for Evaluation and Assessment (CEA) at the University of Pretoria where she is part of numerous projects, including the Progress in International Reading Literacy Study (PIRLS 2016). She is an educational scientist and places her focus on instrument development and refinement. Her primary interests are reading literacy, validity, assessment for and of learning, as well as international large-scale assessments (ISLAs). Karen is part of the BEd Honnours and MEd programmes as a lecturer specialising in assessment and quality assurance. She is currently enrolled as a PhD student at the Faculty of Education at the University of Pretoria.